About These Plans

These are standard lesson plans. They are written in the normal lesson-plan format, in easy words, and they follow the PCTB English 3 textbook (SNC 2020) page by page.

When an AEO visits a class, he checks 7 points of teaching on the School Monitoring Evaluation Form Ver. 7.16. If you teach from these plans, all 7 points are covered in your lesson:

1. Lesson planning - your written plan is ready before the lesson and follows the book.
2. Clear objectives - the SLOs of the lesson are written on the board and told to the class at the start.
3. Correct content and delivery - the steps teach the same text, exercises and pages as the book.
4. Work for every level - class work has tasks for slow, average and fast learners.
5. Student participation - pair work, group work, games and class talk are part of every lesson.
6. Time management - every part of the lesson has fixed minutes, and the parts add up to the full period.
7. Assessment in the lesson - the lesson ends with checking questions and the teacher's feedback.

Note: the SLOs in these plans are written in easy words. They cover the same Learning Outcomes that are printed at the start of each unit in the PCTB English 3 textbook.

Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs)	- Students can read a poem with correct pauses at commas and full stops. - Students can read aloud with correct sounds of letters and words. - Students can say a tongue twister with speed and a clear voice. (The teacher writes these outcomes on the board and tells the class at the start of the lesson.)
Material / Teaching Aids	Textbook pages 111-113, board
Method	Activity-based learning: lecture, pair work, group work, games and class talk
Introduction (5 min)	☐ Read one poem line twice - once ignoring full stops and commas, once with them. Ask: 'Which reading was better? Why?' Teacher says: "Listen to two readings of the same line. Which one is better? The one with pauses."
Presentation (18 min)	☐ Step 1. Page 111-112: Reading Comprehension - answer the short questions on 'Toothy Toad' orally in groups, then in copies. ☐ Step 2. Page 112: read the unit poem applying punctuation rules - pause at commas, stop at full stops, raise voice for questions; whole class reads together, then rows. Teacher says: "Read the poem with me. Stop at the full stop. Take a small pause at the comma." ☐ Step 3. Reproduce rhythm, stress and intonation: listen to the teacher's model reading of a story part and repeat in chorus. ☐ Step 4. Tongue twister: practise the unit tongue twister slowly, then fast, in turns - fluency, tone and pitch.
Practice / Class Work (14 min)	☐ Slow learners: read two poem lines with the group and answer one comprehension question. ☐ Average learners: read the full poem with correct pauses and answer all questions. ☐ Fast learners: read the poem solo with expression and say the tongue twister fast three times without a mistake.
Assessment (5 min)	☐ Ask one child per row to read two lines with punctuation pauses; ask one comprehension question. Answer: Comprehension answers come from the story (pages 111-112). In poem reading, children must pause at commas and stop at full stops. Teacher's feedback: mark where pauses were missed and remodel those exact lines before closing.
Conclusion (3 min)	☐ Sum up the lesson with the class in two sentences, then give the homework.
Homework	Practise the poem reading at home and learn the tongue twister.
